The Louisville Times" Gives Phil Thompson a Body Blow,

"The Lestieville Times" Gives Phil Thompson a Body Blots.

Lowlwille Times.—Colonel Phil Thompson can speak for blunelf, and he holds power of attorney to speak for Colonel Breckinridge, but we must carnestly protest that he has no authority to speak for the great mass of the men and women of Kentucky, or of mankind in general, whom he most grossly misrepresents when he declares that all men have illielt relations with women, if ouly to show that they are men, and gives his approval of Miss Poliard's preference for the part of mistress to a brilliant debauche to that of wife to a poor and plain but honest man. Colonel Thompson's entire argument from opening to close is pitched upon a plane so low, brutal and vuiger that every self-respecting and state-loving Kentuckian must rise up and repudiate, with soorn, indignation and detestation, the estimate which he places upon American manbood and womanbood. It is the opinion of The Times that the sentiments advanced by the leading council for the defendant are as hurtful and disgraceful as any of the acts confessed by his client. Let these two cances knowed and respected Kentuckians bring all the obloquy they choose upon themselves, but when they attempt to pall themselves up by polling down to their own level all that is virtuous, true, beautiful and good in the social relations of life, it is time for justice and decency to call a halt.
